attended the Shelburne schools and graduated from the Arms academy in 1912. On becoming of age he entered into partnership with his father, Charles S. Dole, on the present large farm, with an accredited herd of Holstein cattle and dealing in fruit, eggs and poultry. In 1922 he married Hazel E. Nims of Montague and they have four daughters. In the House, Mr. Dole has seen service on several important committees; particularly agriculture and beside being anxious in behalf of the farmer, has well cared for all the varied interests of his district. Mr. Dole has for many years been the president of the Franklin county fair, the county dairymen's association, the County Farm Bureau and has served other organizations including the county Congregational conference, also the Grange of his community and of the state. Visiting Northfield often, Mr. Dole has formed the friendship of many local citizens and the electorate will give him a good vote for his reelection as representative from this district on the Republican ticket.

Founders Widow Dies Kurn Hattin Homes

Mrs. Esther Goodrich Dickinson, who was the wife of the Rev. Charles Dickinson, who founded the Kurn Hattin Homes in Westminster, Vt. died recently at her home in California. She had always kept in touch with the activities of the homes and only a short while ago, her daughter visited the institution, which was established some 47 years ago. Her passing marks the last living connection of the homes with the far-sighted founder of the work. It is hoped that Kurn Hattin may always remain a living monument to Dr. Dickinson and his ambition in behalf of the children, whom the institution seeks to help.

Stadtmiller - Raymond Win The Golf Match

Last Friday Charles Stadtmiller, crack amateur golfer of Hartford, and Al Raymond, the local professional, defeated Henry Bent of the Keene Country club and Norman Vickery, Keene professional, in an 18-hole golf match held at the Northfield hotel course. Stadtmiller plays from the Indian Hill Country club where he is the club champion, while Bent holds the distinction of being the Keene club champion.

The match was nip and tuck until the 12th hole, at which point the score was even; neither side had more than one up until that point. On the 13th, Stadtmiller and Raymond each had birdie three to go one up again. From then on the match was never in doubt. On the long 14th, the home pro snared another birdie to increase the lead to two holes, and on the 15th he holed a sizeable putt to halve with Bent's par three. Stadtmiller deuced the 16th to end the matters three and two. The individual scores were Raymond 74, Bent 75, Stadtmiller 76, and Vickery 78.

The players were followed by a good-sized gallery in spite of the unfavorable weather which prevailed.

Tuskegee Quintette Gave Fine Concert

The singers from Tuskegee Institute gave a most interesting and appreciative concert in the parlors of the Northfield hotel last Friday evening. There was a large audience comprising guests of the hotel, members of the Northfield club and several friends. The selections on the program were all negro melodies, many of which were familiar to the hearers. Loud applause was given to each rendition. At the close of the concert, many pressed forward to greet the young men. The quintette, all students at Tuskegee Institute, have been touring all summer, giving concerts in various places. Coming from Boston, they arrived in Northfield, but a half hour before the concert and left immediately afterward for Pittsfield, where they gave an appearance, as well as at Williamstown, before returning to their halls of study.

Heads Childrens School

From Pass-a-Grille Beach, Fla., comes an announcement in folder form of the Sunny Hours Beach school, established in that community for children, by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kauffhold, formerly residents of this town and at one time connected with the administration staff of the Youth Hostel. It was while residents here that they were married and during their short stay, made many friends. Returning to the home of Mrs. Kauffhold in Florida, they established a small school, which has now developed to such proportions, requiring a new building. Just erected, on a large plot within 200 feet of the Gulf beach. The school is accessible from St. Petersburg by motor. Children are from 3 to 8 years of age and the curriculum follows the Florida state course of study. A registered physician and nurse are in attendance, with other teachers supplementing the work of Mr. and Mrs. Kauffhold.

COUNTY FAIR WILL OPEN ON MONDAY STILL FEATURES AGRICULTURE DISPLAY PREFAIR TICKET SALE IS A RECORD

True to tradition, the Franklin County Fair remains as always an agricultural fair. Extensive dairy herds, horticultural displays and products of the farm and home will fill the barns and exhibition hall to capacity. Clean wholesome fun for young and old will be found on the extensive midway which will be comprised of new rides, new games and new shows.

With a record number of entries being received in all exhibition classes, the 91st annual Franklin County Fair will open Monday night at Greenfield. Preliminary reports from the pre-fair ticket sale indicates that all attendance records will be broken for this annual fair which will continue from Monday through Wednesday.

The resurfacing of the half-mile oval and the calibre of entries being received gives promise that the full program of harness racing on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons will be outstanding. A fast field of starters will be seen on each of the two days of racing. The card for Tuesday includes the Nassau two-year-old trot; 2:17 pace; 2:15 trot; and 2:22 pace. On Wednesday, the program includes the Nassau three-year-old trot; 2:11 pace; and 2:20 trot. Each race will be run in three straight heats.

The night shows at the fair will feature a special concert by the Greenfield Military Band and ten all-star vodvil acts, presented in night club style. The stellar attraction in the vodvil program will be the Dancing Debutantes, an aggregation of New England beauties who scored an outstanding success on Broadway last season. Supporting them will be Laddie Lamont who has been all over the globe with his comedy juggling. Dog lovers will be especially interested in the skillfully trained antics of Woolford's Dachshunds, while the Three Barretts, by reason of their strength and skill, successfully defy death with their lofty acrobatics. An augmented display of fireworks will conclude each evening performance.

Following the plan which has been in force for many years, the 1940 fair will be conducted with a night show on the opening day,

Monday, Sept. 9, all day and a night show on the second day, Tuesday, Sept. 10, with the concluding events of the fair and the county athletic meet on the third day, Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Chain Letter Appeal Disapproved By G.O.P.

Information has been forthcoming that appeals for funds, from ten cents to a dollar has been received in some parts of the state, to aid in the Wilkie for President campaign. No letters of this kind have been reported as being received in Northfield, but if so they are not officially approved by the Republican organization. Such reception should be immediately reported to Wm. F. Hoehn, chairman of the Republican town committee. All gifts in this state are being received through the state committee.

There is only one campaign for funds in this state and that is the state finance committee campaign. While it is recognized that the chain-letter, sponsors may have best intentions, the state committee emphasizes that it defeats the purpose of the one body for collection of funds for all political purposes of the party in Massachusetts.

All contributions to the state finance committee are carefully and systematically budgeted and allocated to national, state and local political committees for campaign purposes, the statement explains, and all funds are passed upon by a budget committee made up of Massachusetts Republican businessmen.

Any solicitation of funds for the Republican campaign will have the endorsement of the local committee and these funds will go to the treasurer of the state committee.

Gold In "dem" Hills

From Warwick comes a report that mining operations for feldspar will begin on an extensive basis on the old Ward hill near the Warwick line, off the Beech Hill road. Feldspar is used in making fine pottery, grinding wheels, and used with quartz in the making of glass. It is an abrasive mineral. The Ward Hill pasture, where of about fifty acres, part pasture and part forest. At the price now quoted for feldspar the two men, from Walham who have purchased the land, believe that the mining project can be made a profitable venture. A compressor has already been set up and drilling and blasting will follow. If the venture is successful many more may try to follow suit, as in many places throughout the vicinity feldspar has been observed of a good quality and in a plentiful supply.

Former Hostel Member Marries At Ithaca

Miss Winifred Mary Drake, of Pembroke, Bermuda, who was a former member of the staff of the local Youth Hostel headquarters in this town, became the bride of Albert Horton Sayer of Westown, N. Y. at a ceremony in the Lutheran church at Ithaca last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Sayer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Drake of Kent, Eng. and Pembroke, Bermuda. Both bride and groom are graduates of Cornell university, where Mr. Sayer, is completing an advanced degree.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Helen Conley of this town, member of the AYH staff, and Alfred W. Boicourt of Ithaca. The bride's princess gown of imported Liberty satin was trimmed with heirloom lace matching veil. This, extending to the end of her train, was a single panel of handmade English lace, worn by four direct generations of brides in her family. She carried a bouquet of trailing clematis.

The maid of honor, Miss Conley, wore silver-blue moire taffeta and carried miniature pink chrysanthemums.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of a friend Mrs. Dorothy Riddle and a unique wedding cake, surmounted by a replica of a Bermuda cottage, was cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayer left for a tour of northern New England. They will make their home in Amherst.

Hostel Conference Of Field Workers

Five councils were represented at the annual fieldworkers conference held last weekend at the Youth Hostel headquarters. Miss Margaret Brewster of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Margaret Dunham of Seattle, Wash., Justin Cline of Chicago, Charles Harris of New York City, and William Nelson of the New England council were present.

An increase of two-thirds in passholders was reported by Justin Cline of the Great Lakes council, with 65 hostels expected for next year. These will include new hostels around Lake Michigan and in the Starved Rock State Park area.

A meeting in Washington, D. C. to interest the public in hostels will be held on Sept. 12 by Charles Harris of the Middle Atlantic council; a total of 75 hostels is expected in that council in 1941.

In New England, so far the most highly developed of all councils, the prospect is encouraging for the opening of new hostels in Maine, a state hitherto having but one near Portland, William A. Nelson, New England fieldworker, came directly to the conference after a summer's leave of absence during which he conducted a pioneer hostel group in Mexico.

Hostels in the southeast and in the northwest will develop as demanded, agreed Miss Brewster and Miss Dunham. The Southeast council includes a chain out of Asheville and a newly chartered hostel near Atlanta. The northwest hostels are centered about Eugene, Portland, and Seattle.

Storm Made Detour

The tropical hurricane which threatened to treat the New England states over the last weekend, moved out to sea below Cape Cod and Nantucket, making a detour, much to the satisfaction of all. There were some strong winds and a wave of warm air with slight showers at times. Local folks who have been spending some time along the Maine coast, report that the tides were unusually high. However excursionists over the Labor Day holiday made the best of their vacations and the weather had little effect on the great amount of traffic on the highways. Most of our summer residents have gone or are planning their departure for home soon. Perhaps we shall have a fine spell of weather this fall, to make up for the erratic conditions which prevailed this season.

Do you know that industrial activity in Massachusetts during July this year was the greatest for that month since 1929 . . . Value of new home building in July, over $4,000,000 in one- and two-family homes, was the largest for any month since 1931 . . . More than 840,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electric current were used in Massachusetts during July, an all-time high for that month . . . Merchandise imports entering the Massachusetts Customs district (mostly the Port of Boston) during the first 6 months of this year amounted to $80,767,000, an increase of 14 per cent over the same period of 1939; exports cleared through the district were $14,184,000, a gain of 42 per cent . . . TWISTING THE DIALS
With A. L. SIMON

The event of color television is, by far, the biggest radio news to make the headlines in a long time. At this writing the demonstration of colored air pictures was shown just to one man—FCC chairman James L. Fly who reported that he was tremendously impressed with this new discovery. CBS, all excited about it, is hailing the color as the greatest contribution to television in the last 15 years. It will be ready for commercial use by the beginning of 1941.

Television industry which has been lagging, may find this color device just the thing to boost the sale of sets. Fans who attend technicolor movies may not find the screen anything new but the discovery itself is impressive enough. We're anxious to see it. Television made news again this week. An inventor claims to have a television bombing device that will operate on planes. The aircraft is radio controlled, and driven by a ground crew. The tele equipment on the plane enables the man on the ground to see the area surrounding the plane, aim his bombs and release them although he is many miles away. Sounds fantastic but in this fast-moving world, anything may be true.

With Apologies To A
Truly Great President:
Abraham Lincoln

Four score and eighty-four years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent, a new precedent, conceived by Washington, and dedicated to the proposition that no President should accept a third term. Now we are engaged in a great political contest, testing whether that precedent, or any precedent so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We will meet on a great election day in the fall. We will come to dedicate our ballots to the memory of those, who so lived their lives, that that precedent might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow—this precedent. The unselfish Presidents, living and dead, who observed this, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract.

The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say now, but it will never forget what we do in November. It is for us, the voters, rather, to be dedicated now to the unfinished work which they who respected this precedent, have, thus far, so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be now dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored men we take increased devotion to that cause to which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we now highly resolve that these men shall not have sacrificed themselves in vain—that this precedent, under God, shall have a new birth, of devotion—and that, government of Roosevelt, by Roosevelt, for Roosevelt, shall perish from the earth.

Principles of Progress

"What we need is a re-affirmation of faith in our system of free enterprise. Only by the encouragement of thrift and of business privately conducted by business men... will lasting prosperity come."

PHILIP A. BENSON, President,
American Bankers Association, 1938-39

We sincerely believe that the basic American principles of free enterprise, thrift and individual initiative — which have combined to make our country great — form our main hope for continued progress in the future.

SMILE AND WORK

To smile and work, and work and smile,

To smile twelve times a day,
Will take you o'er the stubborn mile

As you journey on your way,
To live, to love, to be sincere,
To strive, yet feel at peace,
Will drive away all kinds of fear.
Your troubles soon will cease.

To know that nothing matters much

If we but do our best,
To look upon all trials such
As a challenge or test.

UP FRONT

It does not always matter
Which joke gets the mount
When they rally at the home
stretch,
One thing alone will count.
Luck oft surpasses talent,
And far better or far worse,
It's the hind horse gets the lashing
And the front horse gets the purse.

EDITORIAL

THE BIG SHOW

Events are moving rapidly toward the election, which is the big show in November. Both Republicans and Democrats claim that their candidate will win. Both candidates are good men and each will serve his country well. Personalities will not come to the fore this year, as much as the consideration of policies and program. We have lived under the New Deal for eight years and the many schemes and propositions have been given a fair trial. No one will want to junk any real progress which has accrued to our people but for a permanent diet, most of us are fed up on experimentation. The average voter is looking for new leadership, and a way out of the present difficulties that beset the nation.

WARS SHADOW

The inhumanity of man to men, can no where be better illustrated than in the cruel and barbarous methods used by the German war lord. The destruction of political Europe, the murder and assassination of its peoples, the countless crimes of oppression against helpless women and children, still continue and are to be waged, by the beasts of battle. The torpedoing of a ship load of innocent children last week on a journey to freedom in America, is the last evidence of the brutality of Hitler and his cohorts. Luckily the children were rescued. But the shadows of war should make us resolve that as for America, we shall stand firm, resist, and give aid to resist further onslaughts, by the German machine. Its time that everyone should unite in any effort, that has for its purpose, the stopping of the Hitler war machine for aggression, and that goes for Italy and Japan too.

WHAT Airings

Rev. A. L. Truesdell of Barnardston will conduct the Tuesday morning devotional period over WHAT during the month of September. These broadcasts are heard each weekday morning from 9 to 9:15.

Frances Walker of Northfield, who conducts her Number Please program on Mondays and Wednesday at 1:30 is among the station's fan-mail leaders. The biggest mail-getter is the Birthday Box daily at 12:35, long popular with Northfield residents.

Billy Field, WHAT's popular cowboy, promises a personal appearance in Northfield soon. Billy is heard four times weekly, at various morning times. Watch for his ad in the Press.
